Meeting Minutes - December 13, 2015

The short business part of the APS Christmas Party at Char Eppright's beautiful home began about 4:05PM with President Rae Andrews asking Vice President Janis Langley to review the November 22nd tour of the Frank Reaugh exhibit at the Ransom Center on the UT campus. It was a successful and interesting viewing, thanks to Janis' organizational skills.

Vice President Langley next reviewed the "Autumn Beauty" exhibit at the Northwest Hills Gallery. There were three place winners and 2 honorable mention winners. These are:

1st Place - Lily Beard's "Cowboy Bob"

2nd Place - Timothy Woolsey's "Nocturne"

3rd Place - Janis Langley's "Here's Looking at you Kid"

Honorable Mention - Jan Weaver's "Cottonwoods"

Honorable Mention - Susan Dyer's "Sunflower"

Thank you and well done artists of the November Autumn Beauty Show, 2015!

President Rae Andrews reminded the members of the Marla Bagetta workshop in March. In addition President Rae Andrews talked about a possible Bastrop Conference later in 2016.

Treasurer Britta Herzog gave her report:

Char Eppright shared a spiritual message of hope reflecting the season.

She noted that Sonia Kever's portraits of the homeless at City Hall have attracted attention.

Business ended at 4:44PM with the gift exchange beginning. The food was extra delicious.

The members thanked Char Eppright for a perfect party.

Respectfully submitted, Secretary Geneva Johnson
