Karen Margulis is a full time artist and art educator. She lives in Atlanta Georgia with her husband Michael. Karen received her BA in Education from the University of Florida. She currently teaches painting workshops around the world.

Karen is a contemporary landscape painter. She works in most painting media but has achieved recognition for her pastel paintings. She has exhibited her award winning work around the world and has been reviewed by Pastel Journal for her wildflower paintings. She is a signature member of the Pastel Society of America and a Masters Circle recipient of the International Association of Pastel Societies. She was recently a faculty member at the prestigious IAPS Convention.

Karen has a passion for travel and painting while on location. She enjoys the opportunity to share her techniques and approach to making art in her workshops. She is known for her ability to make art simple, accessible to all and fun.

Karen is also an avid Daily Painter and blogger. She paints everyday and shares her work, art tips and inspiration in her daily posts on her blog 'Painting My World'.

Karen is delighted to be able to be a pastel instructor. She is excited to share her love of art and help students experience the joy of painting. As Degas said "Art is not what you see. It's what you make others see". Karen looks forward to helping others share their own artistic vision.

We have secured our 2021 workshop with Karen Margulis. We do have changes brought about because of the pandemic. In order to keep everyone safe and healthy, our workshop will be VIRTUAL for spring 2021.

Karen is an excellent teacher and painter! This workshop will be extremely helpful to beginners as well as more advanced pastelists. She will be putting together a virtual presentation for our workshop in the coming months and we will pass that information on as we are informed.

We will keep the dates the same as before, Friday March 5 for her demonstration, and March 6 and 7 for her workshop. Obviously we will not be at the Apache Shores Community Hall as before. No travel hassle and you don't have to pack up pastels!

Our cost savings of the workshop has been passed on to attending members. The total cost of the workshop is $200, with a deposit of $80.

Deposits will be accepted at our September 27th APS meeting. The maximum of students is 18, with a minimum of 10. There will be a wait-list of 8. This will be an exceptional opportunity for those who have found the previous workshops costs prohibitive.

A supply list is available on the APS Workshop webpage.

Please wait until Sept 28, 2020 for open registration online at <https://www.austinpastelsociety.org/workshops/>. Those attending our Sept. 27th meeting can enroll then.

Mark your calendars and get ready for a great time.
